1. Overview of the Assignment

As part of my HR Internship at Swynex, I completed Task 1, which focused on preparing a professional Job Description and a practical Hiring Plan for a realistic Junior Recruiter opening. The assignment used NovaGrid Technologies, a 120-person product company based in Pune, as the business scenario.

The hiring requirement was to recruit one full-time Junior Recruiter with 0–2 years of experience. The position would be part of the Talent Acquisition team, follow a hybrid work arrangement, report to the Talent Acquisition Lead and support campus and early-career hiring for engineering internships. The target joining period was the following month, December 2026.

2. Work Completed

Deliverable	What I prepared
Hiring requirement summary	Restated the business need, role details, team, location, seniority and reason for hiring.
Job Description	Outlined the role summary, responsibilities, required and preferred skills, qualifications and first-90-day success expectations.
Candidate persona	Defined the likely background, motivations, relevant college or work experience, and deal-breakers for the role.
Recruitment channels	Recommended six relevant channels, including college placement cells, LinkedIn, employee referrals, job boards and early-career communities.
Hiring plan and timeline	Mapped the recruitment stages, owners, expected timeline, evaluation steps and documents required at each stage.

3. Key Learning

This task helped me understand that recruitment involves more than publishing a vacancy. It requires understanding the business requirement, defining the right candidate profile, selecting suitable sourcing channels, coordinating interviews, maintaining candidate records and keeping applicants informed. It also highlighted the importance of a structured, fair and well-documented hiring process.
